

Data was obtained from existing movie databases. That is Box Office MojoLinks to an external site. IMDBLinks to an external site. Rotten TomatoesLinks to an external site. TheMovieDBLinks to an external site. The NumbersLinks to an external site. The data file provides the movie title, the year produced, their grossings in both foreign and domestic markets, the type of movies produced, and the studios that produced them.

Methods

The project uses descriptive analysis, which shows the trends of the movies watched, how much they grossed in both international and domestic markets, and the studios that produced these movies.

Results

Most foreign markets receive box office movies better than the domestic markets.

The genre of the movies is important so that Microsoft can know which movies they can produce that appeal to the audience.
